

Queensland Cabinet Reshuffle

On Thursday, 18th May 2023, Queensland Premier Anastacia Palaszczuk announced a reshuffle of her cabinet.

Minister Yvette D'ath and Attorney General, Shannon Fentiman have exchanged portfolios.

Yvette D'Ath will be reassuming her former position as Attorney-General, a position she held from 2017 until the state election in October 2020. She will also take on the Prevention of Domestic and Family Violence portfolio.

Shannon Fentiman will take on the Health Portfolio. She remains the Minister for Women.

Other notable changes include:

- Minister Scanlon will now serve as Minister for Housing.
- Minister Di Farmer, who was youth justice minister until 2020, returns to the role.
- Minister Crawford will serve as Minister for Child Safety, Seniors and Disability Services.
- Minister Linard will serve as the Minister for the Environment and Great Barrier Reef, Science and Multicultural Affairs.
- Minister Bailey will add Minister for Digital Services to his existing portfolios.
- Minister Enoch will add Minister for Treaty, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Partnerships while remaining the Minister for Communities and Arts.

As no backbenchers were promoted, the members of the cabinet remain unchanged.
